

fun and real-life engineering challenge for the adventurous

Coach Challenge!

We know that coaching a TEAMS competition is a rewarding, beneficial, and fulfilling experience. We also know that it takes time, dedication, and commitment. That is why this year, JETS would like to have a little competition among our coaches. The coach that refers the largest number of new participating coaches will be awarded a $200 gift certificate! Second place will receive a $100 gift certificate!

Why TEAMS? Why Engineering?

- Show your students how math and science are applied in the real world.
- Engineering is an exciting profession that is critically important to society.
- TEAMS competitions are an educational, challenging, and rewarding opportunity.
- Coaches have the freedom to determine the amount of preparation that is needed for their team. The JETS' website provides coaches with resources, activities, and previous years' questions to prepare for the competition.
