How Can Your Organization Help Develop a New Generation of Engineers?

Become a JETS Affiliate!

JETS is a national non-profit educational organization that makes engineering come to life for 40,000 high schools students every year. JETS exciting student competitions, assessment tools, and career exploration materials excite students about careers in engineering and technology by showing them the critical role engineers play in the world around us.

As a JETS Affiliate, you have the advantage of capturing the interest of a national pre-college community—students, teachers, and educators.
